Town of Tyringham, Massachusetts Zoning Board of Appeals

Guidelines for filing either a Special Permit or Variance application with the Zoning Board of Appeals

The original application for a Special Permit or Variance must be filled out completely and filed with the Selectmen's Office along with the filing fee. The Selectmen's Office then forwards a certified copy to the Zoning Board of Appeals. The Zoning Board generally holds hearings as needed. In order to meet statutory notice requirements there is a deadline to submit an application for each hearing.

The application should be accompanied by a description that supports the reasons for a Special Permit or Variance. It should also be accompanied by a complete and accurate plot plan, which shows measurements, setbacks and the locations of any pertinent structures and any systems relating to the application (well, septic, etc.). If the location is near a road, the distances from the center of road and edge of road are usually needed to determine the right-of-way across the property. In addition, representative building plans should accompany the application.

A site inspection may be necessary to process and render a decision. There may also be visits from other Town Departments to assess the feasibility of the project and its impact on Public Safety. If your property is difficult to find, please provide directions and any landmarks. If planning an addition or structure it may also be helpful to indicate location by staking out the proposed area.
